Little Bow Riding Is Enlarged

The provincial election is drawing near and it is interestng to note that the boundaries of Little Bow Constituency have been changed, with the effect of considerably enlarging the constituency. Several townships have been added, taken from the Macleod, Taber and High River-Okotoks constituencies, and adding possibly 200 voters to Little Bow.

Enumerators are now busy compiling voters' lists and Little Bow constituency is expected to have between six and seven thousand residents, 18 years of age or over, qualified to vote.

Returning officer for the provincial election on August 5 is A. J. Miller of Vulcan and his office is set up in the basement of the County office. Nomination day is the 22nd of July, from noon until 2:00 o'clock.

Address By Carl Nickle

Vulcan Gas-Air Mix Plant Officially Opened July 14

The first propane gas-air mix plant on the Canadian prairies was officially opened at Vulcan, Monday afternoon, July 14, with representatives present from the provincial and federal governments, the province of Saskatchewan, City of Calgary and other places. Town officials headed by Mayor W. D. Allan and interested spectators were also present.

Officially opening the modern gas-air mix plant and giving the main address was Carl O. Nickle, M.P. for Calgary West, publisher of the Daily Oil Bulletin and recognized authority of oil and gas matters. He was introduced by Mayor D. H. McKay of Calgary.

Mr. Nickle complimented Vulcan on being the first centre on the prairies to avail itself of this highly useful and modern means of heating. He felt that extensive use of the by-products of gas and oil wells would lead to much greater development of the existing fields and that export to the United States and other provinces now anxious to obtain Alberta gas and oil, would create enormous reserves of propane and butane gas, making use of these commodities, in all areas, not only feasible but economical.

Illustrating the fact that many towns in Alberta would never be able to secure natural gas service, Mr. Nickle said: "It is interesting to note that Vulcan has been sitting for nearly forty years within 22 miles of the Bow Island to Calgary gas pipeline, close to but beyond economic reach of that natural gas system. Latest estimate is that nearly $1,000,000 would be required to connect homes in Vulcan and five other smaller towns in the vicinity to the existing gas pipeline. The high capital outlay would make natural gas at Vulcan too expensive to compete with other fuels."

For smaller cities and towns with a population of 1000 and up, propane can serve the community on a more economical basis through a central plant and pipeline distribution system, he said. Central Gas Utilities is not constructing its second system in the town of Melville, Sask., and is considering similar plants in some eighty other towns in the four western provinces.

Mr. Nickle paid tribute to Mines Minister N. E. Tanner for the manner in which oil development in Alberta has been handled. He emphasized, however, that Alberta's potential output has barely been scratched. "An effective export policy will provide incentives for continuing exploration to increase Canada's proved gas resources, and will also directly and favorably affect the rate of petroleum reserves discovery; the growth of petro-chemical and other industries based upon by-products of gas and oil; the growth of industries in Canada that may use gas as fuel; and will ensure that far more Albertans and Canadians will get gas or its equivalent in reasonably short order," he said.

CARL NICKLE, M.P.

Saskatchewan and British Columbia oil and gas resources are being rapidly developed, he said, and Alberta should seize the existing opportunities for gas markets outside its borders.

The idea that export of gas would mean lack of this fuel for Alberta citizens was altogether wrong, he stated. Pincher Creek field alone could provide propane for over 66,000 homes (three-quarters of Alberta farm homes) for 20 years, if the dry gas residue is given a market, he said. In Mr. Nickle's opinion, the increasing volume of sales and availability of propane through dry gas export may in time make propane-air fuel available at an even more economical cost.

Mr. Nickle officially opened the Vulcan plant by turning on a huge gas flare.

Other speakers at the opening were Hon. Ivan Casey, minister of education, representing the provincial government; J. K. Swanson, assistant director of minerals in the Saskatchewan government; Laurence B. Gibson, president of Central Gas Utilities Ltd., and E. G. Robinson, managing director; and Mayor W. D. Allan, who extended the town of Vulcan's welcome to the visitors. A. W. Savary acted as master-of-ceremonies.

Following the opening the guests visited the Memorial Park and the Memorial Swimming Pool, where a diving exhibition was given. A banquet, held in the evening at the I.O.O.F. hall, was catered to by the Reid Hill Women's Institute.

Thought Four-room School Too Large

The Advocate has received a subscription renewal from A. N. McIntyre of Glendale, California, one of the early settlers of this area.

Mr. McIntyre recalls that he was the first to erect a building in the town of Carmangay and it was in this building that the auction sale of the town site was held by the C.P.R. on July 2, 1910.

He helped organize the first school district at Carmangay and, with architect Alex Campbell, worked out the details of the first four-room brick schoolhouse there.

Building of the new eight-room school at Carmangay this year has served to remind Mr. McIntyre that when the first Carmangay school was built many at that time thought it to be too large; that four rooms would never be needed.

The second largest producer of silver and lead in the world is a mine near Mayo in Canada's Yukon.

Firemen Frustrated

The wailing of the fire siren at 1:30 a.m. Monday morning brought members of the fire department and many other local citizens out of bed but they were unable to find the fire.

What actually happened, we are told, was that Fire Chief Shortt and Town Foreman Schuler were called out to put out a fire in an old model car parked behind the Les Johnston home, a block from the Armouries. They had the fire well in hand without deeming it necessary to sound the siren and call out other members of the fire department, when some well-meaning citizen, seeing the blaze, turned in a fire alarm and of course the siren was sounded.

Unfortunately, the citizen gave the location of the fire as "one block from the theatre" when actually it was about a block from the Armouries. With the fire already under control, no blaze was to be seen and of course it was several blocks from the given location anyway.

Net result: Some frustrated firemen and other citizens.

Second Win For Driver Willard

Vulcan Chuckwagon Wins World Championship

(Calgary Herald)

Hank Willard, driving Commodore Allen's outfit from Vulcan, thundered down the track to victory Saturday night in this year's chuckwagon derby at the Calgary Stampede, thus repeating his victory of last year when he took the championship driving his own team.

The Vulcan outfit, which had held first place in the standing from the start of the championship, were tied for first place with the Flett Bros. at the start of the race. The other two teams in the heat were J. Phelan, Red Deer, and Owen Pierson, Morningside, who were third and fourth in the standing respectively.

All four teams got away to a fast start with Johnny Phelan in the lead. Unfortunately for Phelan he lost his stove turning into the straight and although he crossed the finishing line first this mishap added four seconds on to his time. Commodore Allen's wagon and the Fletts battled for second place all through the race and it was only in the last two hundred yards that Hank Willard edged forward into the lead. The Vulcan outfit crossed the line a split second in front of the Fletts.

It was only after the heat was over that the public learned that the Flett Bros. were penalized one second for lifting their stove before the starting hooter sounded.

Commodore Allen's team has returned a total time of 7:15.3 for all six heats during the week. Second in the championships, the Flett Bros., have a total time of 7:16.7. Third in the championship comes J. Phelan with 7:19 8 and fourth, Owen Pierson with 7:21.9.

Second fastest time for the evening was made by L. O. Nelson of High River who won the second heat in 1:11 8 placing him in sixth place in the final standings.

Commenting on his victory after receiving the Gas Company trophy, Hank Willard, who drove Commodore Allen's winning team said that the competition was better this year than when he won the championship in 1951. "It has been a better track, not so muddy and better speeds have been made", he said. Hank Willard paid tribute to his four outriders, Bob Gooch, Orville Strandquist, Norman Haines and George Haines.

Dick Cosgrave, arena director and former world champion chuckwagon driver said that this year's chuckwagon championship had been good clean races. "I think the public has seen some of the best chuckwagon races ever run," he said.

New Service Station Opens On Saturday

Vulcan's newest enterprise, 3-Way Service Ltd., will officially open on Saturday, July 19.

Located at the edge of town on Highway 23, the 40 x 50 frame building will house a service station, machine agency and automotive and machinery repair shop. Owner and operator is Norman Scotney, and associated with him will be his brother, Walter Scotney, and Tom Brooks and Glen Wright. Among the lines handled will be wholesale and retail oils and gas, Nash and Morris cars and Cockshutt farm machinery. Twenty-four hour service will be offered motorists.

Mr. Scotney has also erected five large cabins on his property and future plans call for the building of additional cabins and establishment of a fully modern auto court to be operated in conjunction with the service station.

A water and sewer system has been installed on the business site and the buildings will be connected to the gas-air distribution system for heating.

Heavy Damage Reported

Lomond, Milo, Arrowood Districts Hit By Hail

Although the immediate Vulcan district has escaped heavy hail damage so far this season, other parts of the county have not been so lucky. Wednesday evening of last week two separate storms struck the area east of Vulcan, causing heavy damage in the Queenstown, Milo and Lomond districts, with hailstones as big as golf balls reported in some spots.

Milo district reports the heaviest damage, with about 8,000 acres of crops hit with damage ranging up to 100 percent. The two storms struck about 20 minutes apart in the evening and hit an area extending from Queenstown to five miles east of Milo and through to Lomond.

At Lomond, hail moved along a path about two miles wide east of the town. Crops which had promised a heavy yield were damaged about 75 percent, according to reports. Most farmers in this area are insured against hail.

A devastating storm pounded crops in a six mile wide strip west of the Little Bow River the same night, extending from Nanton through Parkland to the Stavely district. Damage was estimated to be from 50 to 75 percent.

Several thousand acres of crop in the Arrowwood district were hit the same night, with damage up to 100 percent.

Weather and Crops

Bright, warm days interspersed with scattered showers have continued to make growing conditions practically ideal this past week.

Tuesday night of this week rain was reported from all parts of the Vulcan district. The shower varied in intensity, but as much as a half-inch of rain fell in the Reid Hill district.

Crops are generally above average for this time of the year, although poor germination of seed and some wireworm damage will cut yields in various parts of the district.

A heavy crop of hay is now being cut.

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

By H. S. Burns
Field Supervisor

It will be of interest to farmers of the County to know that your service board have purchased a small sprayer for use in patch spraying and roadsides. This machine is very handy and can be transported if necessary in the trunk of a car. It has a spread of about 15 feet or so from a single nozzle and is very economical.

The one machine we now have is in use practically continuously on patches of Canada thistle which is now in bud. The board have ordered two more of these machines and it is hoped to have several more in the County next year, so that they can be easily procured by any farmer who needs one and has not his own spraying equipment.

This is also the season of the year when sow thistle becomes noticeable and if you know of any plants in out of the way places, which you can not destroy, kindly report to your weed inspector or field supervisor. Let's keep the County clean.

Alterations Now Completed

Built in 1910, Carmangay Church Will Be Re-dedicated

Completion of additions and alterations to the United Church at Carmangay will be marked at the southern town on Sunday, July 20, at 2:30 p.m., with a re-dedication of the church and an unveiling of the cornerstone.

During the past two years a basement has been added to the church, making available a large assembly room which can be used for Young Peoples, Sunday School, banquets, teas, etc., and at one side the Women's Association have a kitchen with the necessary equipment to cater to such activities. This fills a long felt need.

When the cornerstone of the building was removed in the renovating process it was found to contain a copy of the town's weekly newspaper of that day, the Carmangay Sun, dated July 1, 1910; a copy of the Lethbridge Herald and many other items of interest to the church at that time. These will again be sealed up in the stone along with similar material of interest during the later period of church history, including a copy of the Vulcan Advocate dated July 17, 1952.

The present minister of the Carmangay church, Rev. Peter Dawson, is the thirteenth minister to serve in that capacity, as well as the pastor of longest service. For the occasion of the re-dedication, Rev. J. S. Clarke of Vulcan will be guest minister and will deliver the sermon.

Many oldtimers of the Carmangay district and several former residents are expected to attend the ceremony.

THE LIQUOR STORE

Editor, The Advocate.
Dear Sir:

Little Bow constituency is the only constituency in the province without a government liquor store.

Why should we be discriminated against in this way. Why doesn't the local member see that liquor store is established here so the residents of this county don't have to drive to High River or Lethbridge to buy liquor or beer. All people aren't drunkards, most people take an occasional social drink and we should have the same liquor store service here as in other districts.

Thousands of dollars of business go from here each year because people want to buy a bottle and must drive to High River or Lethbridge to get it and then spend the afternoon there shopping. A liquor store here would help every town in the county by keeping most of this money at home.

Is Mr. Dawson being influenced to keep a liquor store out? The majority of the people want it, why doesn't he see that we get it? He is supposed to see that we get a fair deal, but is sure falling down on the job.

An Open Letter to Rev Peter Dawson

Dear Sir:

For some time I have been assisting in the work on the church in Champion. This church is for you. In addition, I have contributed financially over the years to the church. I have always found myself in disagreement with Prohibition, having regard to the terrible havoc it wreaked here and in the United States. Not only is it stupid from a legal point of view, but I see by the papers that at the recent Medical Convention, Canada's outstanding authority on alcoholism blasted Alberta for its nonsensical liquor laws.

But what matters most is what Scripture, the unabridged Word of God, has to say on the point. We are enjoined to "take wine often for our infirmities' sake." But from experience gained by your church, it has been found to be very profitable (for the church) to foster and encourage Prohibition. This means more money on the collection plate and large donations from all across Canada from vested interests.

Many of your die-hard prohibitionists are in fact, quite fond of a drink. All right. That makes them complete hypocrites in the eyes of God and man. We are asked to vote for "the only man who can get our roads hard surfaced." You hadn't the candour to say "vote for the only man who prevents a vendor's store going into the constituency," or "vote for the man who boasts (around Edmonton) that he has the only constituency without a liquor store."

Mr. Dawson, you are holding up progress here. In paraphrase of Cromwell "you have sat there too long to be of any good to your country. In God's name, go!"

Thousands of dollars go daily to High River, Lethbridge and Calgary, which might otherwise be spent in or near the County Seat. For too long now you have sat in the fence fearing to give Vulcan the vendor's for fear of losing Champion votes. Well, a good number of us here in Champion feel that it's about time you stopped playing one town against the other for your own self-perpetuation in office. I understand Lomond has a petition before you for a vendor's. Are you a hypocrite or are you going to stop this insane devious, evasive purchase of liquor elsewhere?

One more point: It seems incredible to us all that one or two American citizens of the Vulcan district should sign a petition against a vendor's when they have no Canadian papers. Yet you blandly used these petitions as an excuse for not putting a vendor's store in Vulcan. Is this a Canadian democracy?

No, Mr. Dawson, you will not have my family's vote. I see and hear of too many people securing liquor even when they are on the Indian List. Thousands of young heroes and gentlemen from the War who saw the pub system in England know that liquor is safer consumed near home.

Have you the temerity to deny these things? Have you fortitude enough to come out flat-footed before election for a Vendor's. If so, let us hear from you now. Until we do my vote is for the first time Liberal, for a man who will not stand in the way.

District News

LOMOND

A very disastrous hail storm for a good many farmers in this district hit here early Wednesday evening July 9. Most reports of hail damage were north and north-east of Lomond, straight eats and south east. Around 20 farmers or more claiming hail damage. Hail stones were reported in some places to be larger than eggs. A great many windows were broken and buildings damaged. In a lot of cases the crops were hailed out 100 per cent.

Fly Control on the Farm

The most common farm flies are House flies, Stable flies and Horn flies. They reproduce very rapidly, breeding in all kinds of decayed material and filth. There seems to be no way of getting completely rid of these pests, but the practices recommended here will, if followed, keep them down to an insignificant number. To be effective, any fly control campaign must include (1) proper steps in sanitation, and (2) the wise use of chemicals.

Sanitation. Good sanitation is the backbone of fly control. Without it, you cannot control flies effectively, regardless of the chemical or chemicals you use. Sanitation includes: destroying garbage; cleaning barnyards, scraping them right down to hard ground; cleaning out hog pens, hen houses and open cattle sheds; raking up and burning weeds and other farmyard refuse; treating outdoor privies with borax every day; and hauling out fresh stable manure to the field every day or two. A lot of work, yes, but necessary for best fly control results.

Chemicals. To control flies around the house, spray porches and doorways with Lindane or Chlordane. DDT will give satisfactory control where light infestations of house flies occur. As a spray for the dairy barn use Lindane or Methoxyclor. For other buildings Chlordane may be used instead of Lindane. Treat all places where flies roost, and repeat the applications every 3 to 5 weeks. Avoid contamination of feed and water with Lindane and Chlordane. Concerning cattle sprays. Methoxyclor is recommended for dairy cattle. It can also be used on beef cattle that are within 60 days of market. If the cattle will not be marketed for more than 60 days, then a DDT spray is recommended. No matter what chemical you use be sure and follow the directions and precautions of the manufacturer.

Farm fly control pays. It safeguards health, increases milk and meat production from livestock, and adds to the comfort of farm living.

Force and not opinion is the queen of the world; but it is opinion that uses the force.

Krilium—The New Soil Conditioner

Truly, it is a chemical age!! And agriculture has shared fully in the great number of recent chemical discoveries. But now a soil conditioner! Krilium!!

How Krilium Acts. Krilium, because of its electrical charges, attracts clay particles. Tiny lumps or granules are formed. This desirable change in structure improves the physical condition or tilth of the soil. The direct results are: resistance to wind and water erosion; increased moisture intake; reduced moisture loss through evaporation; better aeration of the soil; and reduced power requirements in hauling cultivation equipment.

Krilium is Not a Fertilizer. The following point must be emphasized. Krilium is not a fertilizer. It does not contain nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium or minor elements in sufficient quantities to affect crop growth. Soil treated with Krilium has produced higher crop yields simply through improved physical condition, increased moisture intake, etc. Although Krilium improves the physical condition of the soil, fertilizer will definitely be needed to maintain high yields.

No Substitute for Organic Matter. One of the important reasons for growing forage crops or returning crop residues or manure to the soil, is to improve its physical condition. Krilium will do this, but it will not return organic matter to the soil. Organic matter breaks down into all-important humus, the main functions of which are to add plant food to the soil and to feed the vital soil bacteria. Without humus no crops would grow.

Is Krilium Available? Krilium is being produced at present only for experimental purposes. Because of small-scale production it is still costly. However, with millions of acres of over-worked soil throughout the world, this new soil conditioner, Krilium, would indeed seem to have unlimited possibilities in the future.

Need Forest Conservation

Major-General Howard Kennedy Chairman of the Eastern Rockies Forest Conservation Board, in a public message warns that current economic developments in Alberta may obscure the real value of less spectacular resources. General Kennedy throws a spotlight on Alberta's fifty million acres of high quality forest lands "which, if properly used are sufficient to support in perpetuity a sawn lumber industry capable of supplying the ordinary needs of the Province, poles and ties for public services, timbers for mines, and pulpwood for a considerable pulp and paper industry in the future."

"There is an increasing shortage of timber to meet the world's needs. With suitable treatment, Alberta's forests can not only be maintained, but improved to meet this growing world demand for wood products over the coming decades. It is therefore the duty of every citizen to support the Minister of Lands and Forests in his efforts to protect your forests from fires and other disaster, and to administer them wisely so that future generations may also use and enjoy them."

MILO

Here is an item of particular interest to those who read this paper in far places and are interested in our little community. It also might not be a bad idea to remind those living right here to open their eyes and look about them and really see what they are looking at. The point is—this country looks grand right now. Not often enough do we see the Buffalo hills and lease lands glowing in soft greens during the second week of July. Jack Shields, recently returned from England, has voiced his pleasure at finding his home district looking so well and prosperous, and have you noticed how abundant the prairie flowers are this year and in such varieties of shades. Buffalo beans, dandelions, butter cups, honeysuckle, primroses, prairie roses, blue bells and wild violets make a profusion of color and now the brilliant purplish pink of the fire weeds is starting to show too. Yes, this old prairie can be beautiful although sometimes during the long cold winters we forget this. The crops are looking good too. They are beginning to head now and grow tall and if the hail or sawflies or wire worms don't get them, we'll have another good harvest this fall. There is no doubt about it, people should be satisfied this year in spite of the weeds and ducks.

Miss Marjorie Deitz resigned her nursing position at the Vulcan hospital and is now taking a prolonged holiday in the States. She went to South Dakota where she met her mother, Mrs. Jack Deitz and together they travelled to Three Rivers, Mich., where they are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. John Ash.

The foundation has been laid preparatory to moving the teacherage from Queenstown to Milo, for the principal of the Milo school. Present principal is Mr. Clark who was also here last year.

It might be a good idea to remind the mothers of the district once more of the well baby clinic which comes to Milo the first Wednesday afternoon of every month from Vulcan. It is an excellent way to keep track of your baby's weight and progress and shots for the various diseases are given at the proper time.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Saunders of Lacombe were in Milo over the weekend visiting their daughter, Mrs. Bill Black.

Frank Jones, who is helping to dig the sewer system for the new school and was then about fourteen feet down, was heard to remark that the harder he worked the farther in the hole he got.

It sems a shame that, after the good start the children of the community got last year, the swimming course is not being given this year. More credit than was at the time realized, is deserved by Joyce Dishaw who last summer gave so much of her time to the children on this project. It seems a pity that there is no one willing to carry on with it this year.

The official opening of the Red and White store was held Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Black and Rochelle Desharnais ready and willing to wait on customers. Much success is wished Mr. and Mrs. Black in their new venture.

It is with sincere sorrow and regret that people of this community learned of the death of Mrs. Hugh Laughren in Calgary on July 1. Mrs. Laughren had been an active member of the U.F.A. and took an interest in all community affairs. The funeral was held July 5 at Leyden's Funeral Home in Calgary.

Another old timer of the district to pass away is Mr. Austin Johnson who died July 5. The funeral is to be held on July 8 at the Queenstown Lutheran Church.

The annual Oddfellows picnic which was held at Lake McGregor on July 1st had rather tough luck this year. It started to rain about 12.30 and continued until nearly 3 o'clock. A few hardy souls outlasted the rain and had their supper there. For a change it was extremely hard to find enough people to consume the treats supplied by the Oddfellows. One boy at least was happy because at last count he had downed 11 bottles of pop.

When the rain began at Milo on July 1 many of the people left the picnic and went to High River to the Stampede where the weather was beautiful. Several others took in the second day of the Stampede and while opinions differ of course it was generally conceded that it was a good show and a good time could be had.

Grandma Beckner of Erickson, B.C. is at present staying with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Beckner. In her honor 28 members of her family and a few friends gathered for a pot luck dinner on Sunday. Mrs. Beckner has since been visiting friends in the district.

Milo United Church bible vacation school is to begin on July 28 through to August 1. Anyone interested in having their children attend are most sincerely invited to do so.

Mrs. Damien Corbiel is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Heather while her husband is at Cochrane.

Mrs. Lewis Ivers and son Johny have gone with friends to spend a holiday at Yellowstone Park. Marlene Ivers is staying with Hap and Ethel Heather while her mother is away.

Jo Ann Heather is spending part of her holidays with her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Jacobson at Enchant.

Dick Miller of Moose Jaw spent some time at the home of his sister-in-law, Mrs. Lawrence Monner, visiting his two daughters, Peggy and Ann who have been staying with the former. He and his daughters then went to Carstairs to visit his mother, Mrs. Miller. Mrs. Monner then went to Calgary for a few days holiday.

Bob and Vic Bertrand got urgent calls from Long Beach, Cal., to go to their mother who was very ill. Mr. and Mrs. Vic Bertrand immediately flew down. Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bertrand and family motored as far as Spokane and went from there by train. Both families are home again now and Mrs. Bertrand is on the road to recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Spears announce the birth of a daughter on July 2 at Vulcan hospital.

A ball tournament was held at Lomond last week and it seems that the Milo team didn't do so well, losing the only game they played. However, quite a few couples from here went down to the dance and reported a very good time.

Last Sunday Wilf Bittorf had a reunion with his family and this week it was Mrs. Bittorf's turn. Her brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Soder of Elkhorn, Man., along with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Soder of Vulcan, and Mr. and Mrs. Scotney met at the home of Boyd McKay where Mr. and Mrs. Norman Soder were working and had a picnic dinner under the trees. Seems to be the time of year for family reunions and pleasant it is to do so.

Word has been received through the papers and on the radio that Johnny Stumpf is coming home from Korea on rotation leave. His ship docked at Seattle last Tuesday and Johnny should be home soon.

ARMADA

Mr. and Mrs. G. Craine of Calgary and Art Johnson and daughter Dorothy of Blackie were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. G. Stokes.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Anderson and family of Milo and Mr. and Mrs. S. Bohnet and son, Bryon were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Marks.

Maurice Henrickson, who has been a patient at the sanitorium in Calgary is home for a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Henrickson and son Mark of Nanaimo, B.C. are guests at the home of Dennis' parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. Henrickson.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Stokes have returned to their home in the district after holidaying in the States.

Those attending the High River Rodeo from the Armada district included Mr. and Mrs. O. Herman and daughter and Bob Doyle, Mr. and Mrs. Art Marks and Myrna, Earlene Anderson, Vinal Graham, Bob Stokes, Ross Chambers and Mary Magella.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Stokes are the proud owners of a new Chevrolet car.

Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Jensen and family of Edmonton were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. I. Kunkle last Monday. Mr. Jensen was a former grain buyer at the Pool elevator in Armada.

Misses Jeanette Kunkle and Mary Magella accompanied Harvey Howell to the dance in Queenstown, Wednesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stokes and family left last week for a month's vacation in Ontario and the United States. They expect to visit in Kenora and the Niagara Falls districts besides various points in the States. They will also visit Mrs. Stokes' brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Meston, who live in Ontario.

The Armada district received a very good rain on Tuesday. Prospects of another bumper crop are in sight providing none of those frozen rain drops fall again.

The Boe family motored to Lethbridge last Saturday to meet Mrs. Boe's sister, Mrs. W. J. Allen and daughter Evelyn who arrived from Bessimer, Mich. This was a very happy occasion for the two sisters but yet it was just like going to meet a stranger as Mrs. Boe and Mrs. Allen had never seen each other. Their mother passed away when Mrs. Allen was only eight days old and thus the girls were put up for adoption. One boy stayed with their father. The adopted parents of Mrs. Allen came to the United States to make their home when she was only two years old. Mrs. Boe and her brother, who now lives at Rocky Mountain House, later came to Canada. Through relatives and one way and another, Mrs. Allen finally learned of her sister's whereabouts and it was a very joyful occasion for both when they met face to face in Lethbridge last week. The two sisters are very much alike and each one has raised a nice family, each having four sons and one daughter. Mrs. Boe is 67 and Mrs. Allen is 65, so one can imagine what a happy reunion this has been.

Several Armada residents attended the July 1 celebration in Lomond on Friday.

Mrs. J. Marks is a patient in the Vulcan hospital. Her friends wish her a speedy recovery.

Balanced Farming

In balanced farming the emphasis is on brain-work, according to R. M. Putnam, Alberta Dept. of Agriculture. The farmer, his entire family, and an agricultural expert get together to draw up in writing a long-range plan that embraces and integrates every single operation on the farm and brings it into harmony with the farmer's family as a unit—taking into consideration their individual wants, aptitudes, preferences, and personalities. The idea of balanced farming has only recently taken root in Alberta, although it has been in operation in Missouri for some years.

Under this scheme each member of the family actively participates in drawing up the plan, which is literally tailor-made to the family's requirements. The farm is considered the unit and any single operation—be it gardening, wheat growing, sheep raising, cattle breeding, or marketing—is viewed in its proper perspective and coordinated with the whole planned effort. The plan will never permit any single project—no matter how attractive—to upset the balance of a well integrated unit. Moreover, should death or sickness remove the head of the unit, the plan is always there and the remaining members of the family have the knowledge and ability to carry on with it.

Balanced farming has been very successful in Missouri, according to Mr. Putnam. Farms almost invariably start showing handsome profits after several years' operation under this scheme.

Unemployment Act Amended

Two of the recent amendments to the Unemployment Insurance Act, those increasing rates of benefit and reducing the waiting period, will come into force, by proclamation, on July 14.

The top rate of benefit paid to a person entitled to the dependency rate will then be $4.00 a day and, for a single person $2.85 a day. At present these are $3.50 and $2.70 respectively.

The increased rates and the reduction in waiting days will apply only to days of unemployment that occur on or after July 14. These amendments were recommended to the Government by the Unemployment Insurance Advisory Committee.

Another amendment extends until April 15 of each year the period during which supplementary benefits will be paid. Of interest also is an amendment providing that there will be no discrimination in the selection of applicants for placement because of racial origin, color, religious belief, or political affiliation. The Commission, through its national chain of employment offices, has been following the practice legalized in this amendment. The principle now is given statutory recognition in the amendment.

BACK IN LONDON AFTER 371 YEARS

Drake's drum is back in London. It was brought here from Drake's home town of Plymouth, 210 miles away, for an exhibition of Drake relics, and the last time it was seen in the British capital was in 1581, when Sir Francis Drake was knighted by Queen Elizabeth 1. With it is the wood with which the great British admiral played bowls on Plymouth Hoe. The drum was used by Drake to summon up his forces. It is still helping British seamen, for the exhibition is in aid of King George's Fund for Sailors.

GOOD SEED FOR NEXT YEAR
Farmers are well advised to set up a seed field on their farms. This should be a field of good summerfallow from 5 to 10 acres that has had special care in its cultivation and elimination of weeds. Now is the time to prepare such a field for next year's sowing to high quality Registered Seed.

Save fuel dollars with OIL, GAS or COAL

Get rid of that old troublesome, fuel-hungry furnace now. Replace it with a money-saving Iron Fireman and enjoy the most luxurious winter comfort you've ever known!

What makes Iron Fireman performance so outstanding? It's the "radiant fire." County Fair Highlights

Floor space in the arena for the commercial exhibits is very much in demand and most of it already reserved. Any others desiring exhibit space are advised to contact Budd Andrews as soon as possible.

* * *

School work exhibits this year will occupy a much greater space, according to advance entries, and early reports indicate that they will be more numerous, more diversified and of far more interest to the public. It will be a grand opportunity to compare the work from the various schools throughout the County.

* * *

With nine candidates in the field for the Princess contest, interest is running high and if the orders for books are any indication there should be some mighty keen competition. It's too early to attempt any prediction as to a winner because it is the ticket sale campaign in the final two weeks that will determine the winner. B. A. Lloyd is chairman of the committee in charge of the Princess contest.

* * *

The Vulcan and District Board of Trade have ordered a large trophy for the Beef Calf show winner. The boy or girl 17 years or under who exhibits a beef calf born in 1952 calendar year and is judged the winner on calf-show and handling will be awarded the splendid trophy. This will be engraved with the name of the event and the year and winners name and will be retained permanently by the winner. In addition to this trophy an even larger trophy for annual competition has been donated by William Lucas. Beautifully engraved, this splendid trophy, known as the William Lucas trophy, will be awarded annually to the calf show contest winner at the Vulcan County Fair. The large plate in front will have the name of the trophy, and the event. Another large plate on the back will be engraved with the year and the winner's name. Those planning on entering this event are asked to get in touch with J. Lundy Findlay or A. A. Giles. The trophies will shortly be displayed in the Lloyd Jewelry store window.

* * *

Efforts are being made to have two or three bands in attendance at the parade which starts at 12.15 noon on Monday, August 4. If the committee's efforts are successful, a brass band and a Highland Pipe band will make their appearance in the parade and give a band concert during the afternoon and evening. The Beiseker Lions Club community band, 40 to 45 strong, have confirmed that they will be in attendance.

* * *

Judges for the exhibits are being supplied through the co-operation of the Alberta Dept. of Agriculture. Special judges are being arranged for the art exhibits which drew so much favorable comment last year.

* * *

The beautiful flower exhibits which covered the west end of the curling rink last year are expected to be bigger and better this year because several new classes have ben added and flower gardens are flourishing throughout the County

* * *

The program and contest list shows quite a few new classes in the fancy work section and the farm and home labor saving devices events will be anticipated with interest.

* * *

Merv McIntyre is putting up a trophy for the farm and home labor saving devices exhibits.

* * *

The floats in last year's parade proved very good and the committee have already been assured of many more entries in the community float section. It is hoped that the judges will have lots of entries to choose from in awarding the beautiful Town of Vulcan shield for the best town or district float.

* * *

The children's pet parade show this year will be held at the Arena. The program and contest list would indicate that the prizes were restricted to dogs. The committee wishes to stress that the children's pet parade is open to pets of all kinds and wishes to see every type of pet on parade. So, kiddies, bring out those cats, goats goldfish, hamsters, chickens, pigeons, mice, rats and any other kind of pets that you have. The more the merrier and the greater the variety the better.
